SBecker, your thorough response is much appreciated.

I can imagine a competitor fishing behind those guys throwing rapalas having an advantage fishing the chum line created downstream of their wading (if it's a macro rich stream).

I would be interested in attending one of these if done locally on the CV spring creeks. Would I want there to be one every week? No. But if they did one a year with a no wading rule, I would enjoy seeing the bag of tricks they might open up on the Letort, Falling Spring and Big Spring.
