Do you fish these flies or do you mainly sell them to collectors? Just curious, the fly looks awesome btw.

Most end Up in the box above. A couple I've got frames for just today, and some i sell. The few that are sold are custom tied depending on hook preference if the buyer - standard hook or hand made, or vintage. Hook alters the price, as does complexity of the pattern as well as rare materials included, but for the most part i use subs for the real rare stuff like blue chatterer, toucan and Indian crow
