never once asked a person to buy flies from me. I had given many people recipes when asked for them, and never onces solicited anyone. Would rather have people tie their own and said that many times. Offered to donate material to others, and tools to many who are just starting out.

I am not here to try to sell anything, If I would be I would purchase a sponsorship. I am just looking for ways to tie faster more effective patterns, and take advantage of the short time that I have to tie. Never put my link, never said my name or anything like that.

Do not pm me to purchase flies, will not sell to PAFF members.
