My day is going pretty good. Just finished a proposal for a complicated Commercial risk that should bring in a nice commission for my agency. But that's not why I do it. I just received an email from a client who was ecstatic about a claims check he received for a claim I recommended he file due to business interruption caused by Superstorm Sandy. That's what brings satisfaction to me, helping others.

Don't bother PM'ing me, I will not sell insurance to members of PAFlyfish.
