My beulah classic (actually a meiser designed 5-6-7) is a two hander.

My echo dh-11'9" 4wt is an original series two hander.

The echo flexes to the cork. The beulah is more medium- progressive.

Both are great casting rods. I almost sold the beulah and glad I didn't. It's the most often used rod I have for steelhead.

Not sure how all this info would correlate into a SH rod 5wt.
