Hey Mike,

"after seeing how much knowledge got packed into this post it looks like CDC and comparadun hair are on my material to buy list."

Since you are a pro tier/inventor/entrepreneur and you are likely going to be making personal gains from the knowledge you have gleaned from these posts I think it would only be fitting that you man up and "pay" for our tutelage.

I think you should send every poster who contributed to this thread half a dozen nymphs. That seems to be a modest price to "pay" for the plethora of knowledge you have gained over the past few days.
