The problem I see is...hunters hate it because the fishing side would get "their" money and not all but many on the fishing side are all for it so they can get "the hunting" money.

Personally if it was done correctly (which we all know would never happen) it would help greatly. Both sports are suffering from a lack of involvement of youth, the hunting side is a little lucky to have timber and mineral rights to fall back on. I think PA is the only state or one of the only states that have separate departments.
