

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : I am sure we are all ready to go fishing

I am sure we are all ready to go fishing

Author: : dkile

Date: : 2013/3/27 19:38:45

URL:

Seems like this March weather has been kinda lame. Funny, I have never heard anyone comment on how nice the weather ever has been in March. I am sure we are all anxious to get out and fish and I am sure it will be here soon.

Just a friendly reminder we take everyone's approach here on the site seriously. Maurice, Jack, David and Tom work diligently and fairly keeping things in order. We are not like other fly fishing sites we have our own style and it my not be a fit for everyone.

We do strive to have great community. A lot a good things happen as a result of support we provide here. There is nothing wrong with with having fun on the site too. But, I like to say there is a fine line between clever and stupid. So lets keep it civil and remember we are here to help each other in the support of fly fishing.

If you are unsure how it works here I suggest you read the guidelines above. But I can sum it up for here too. Don't be a jerk.