Dave,

Thanks for a top notch fly fishing forum. You and the rest of the mods do an outstanding job administering a site that gets a tremendous amount of activity on a daily basis. The only moderator that I haven't got a chance to personally meet within the last year has been Jack. Maybe we will get a chance to meet at the Jam this year. The fishing can't start soon enough for me, and probably will start in some form for me this Friday. If it decides to snow another 4 inches or so I will be out there somewhere. Thanks again for all of your hard work on the site. Tight lines.
