Well, I'll not be fishing but I will take a lawn chair to a local stream, near a bridge that has a long and deep hole. Many anglers will be shoulder to shoulder, vasting a varirty of baits. Last year at this same spot, one angler hooked a large trout and it ran upstream tangling 7 lines.

I love to watch opening day happenings, the entertainment factor is next to none. I have nothing against anglers on opening day, I once participated, but now am a spectator.
