Trust me, it's not easy to float and people always get bent. JMcWill caught a very nice fish one day that JayL netted for him. We had just gone through with a group of 8 boats / kayaks. I've caught 2 of my 3 biggest fish up there from a pontoon boat. They were also hooked 6-8' from my boat. I think Josh caught 3 last year by running his nymph rig UNDER my pontoon. If you are quiet, the fish don't care. Waders don't get it. We go out of our way so that we don't bother them and they still bad mouth you and try to hook you in the hat. Maybe I'll just row over their fish this year.
