

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : First fish on a homegrown nymph

Re: First fish on a homegrown nymph

Author: : lv2nymph

Date: : 2013/3/29 17:07:43

URL:

The one that is wet looks like the bead size fits well, and the one that is dry looks a tad big to my eye as well. Did you make the thorax a little bigger on the one that is wet? I tie a mink bead head on a size 14 hook with a bead that is 1/8 the collar is large so it looks good to me, A more slim line the fly shows a bead that's slightly too big more so than one with a larger thorax I think. But then everyone likes a different look to their nymphs.