Went out to try the fly rod with a couple friends at a delayed harvest and started out with no luck. Fortunately i ran into a guy who gave me a midge he was doing well on and i landed three with other hookups as well could have stayed and did better but went over to north park to get my semi frustrated friends on some fish overall great day and im glad there are guys out there who want to help out also talked to another guy who gave me some pointers. good day might get back out tomorrow
