Haha yeah there's not much secrets on Steelhead Alley, well there are a few....but the Ashtabula isn't one of them lol. I only fished it once, definitely want to explore it a little more.

I was actually planning on fishing the Chagrin today since I haven't really fished it much, and none at all for steelhead, but looking at the gauges Rocky River looks to be the only game in town. Crowds should be nuts. And I guess the Ash and the smaller tribs should be ok too. Vermillion is fishable but that's a little too far for me. I'll be leaving here shortly, first steelhead trip of 2013!
