

Subject: : Professional Stream Reports

Topic: : Yellowbreeches Hendricksons

Re: Yellowbreeches Hendricksons

Author: : addictedangler

Date: : 2013/3/31 16:28:07

URL:

On opening day I fished with a few friends on the Breeches. About 9:30 the Grannoms started to come off and for about 3 hours the wild Browns eat them up. Everyone did well. After lunch it slowed down so we fished a section on the lower Breeches and there was nothing going on. Seeing a trusted friend I asked about the fishing and he commented on the lack of fly (surface activity). A few miles can make a big difference in Hatches. I guess the lesson is to move around until you hopefully find what you are looking for.