csoult and I fished it a day later (Saturday, the 30th). Bug situation sounds similar. But ours was a bluebird sunny day, not a cloud in the sky. Fish response was notably muted. A few rose in the shadows right along the edges, but not much was goin on. We both avoided the trout skunk, and added a few suckers. And of course it was a great day to be out. Beautiful weather, good company, and thus, fun. But the fishing wasn't that great.
