Ok thanks Kev, you're right about the google search that's basically what I've found too. I wanted to check with everyone here about patterns given the large amount of talent at the vise here at PAFF. Thanks for the info. think I'm going to screw around with a wet pattern and put it up and maybe between the lot of us one will emerge that might work. Would this even be necessary with this bug? I thinking the fun is in it getting slammed on top.
