Some of you may remember a post I made about Old Lefty's return to fishing after he broke his leg along Spring Creek in early 2012.

Well, after he was almost fully healed 6 months ago, he developed an infection that resulted in another operation to remove all the hardware installed in his initial operation.

Today was the return of the Southpaw, after 5 1/2 months of no fishing. I met Old Lefty and WildTigerTrout for a day of fishing on the Little Lehigh.

Although the weather was much colder than expected, we did find rising fish and a decent baetis hatch.

Let's just say Old Lefty hasn't forgotten how to fish. 😊 WTT also picked up a LL slam.

Great company and good fishing are always an unbeatable combination. Beats the heck out of working!

Thanks for a great day on the water, my friends.
