SAS,

Not sure that would be the best idea either. If it is county by county, then would lower populations counties see less stocking. For instance, Potter county. I imagine Potter makes more money on the opening weekend of trout than any other day of the year, in conjunction with deer, bear, and turkey openers. The attraction to this area if there were minimal stocking opportunities could be detrimental to their economy.

I go up there with other R&R things on my mind, but others may go up just to fish.
