Noone said that there would be no bait fishing..... I say just reduce Creel limits and actually spend revenues on stream enhancements..... Those streams less than an hour away would get less pressure water quality would rise dramatically..... And so would fishing..... Only you couldn't kill as many and the ones you did catch might actually have been born in that watershed..... And wild trout are so much harder to catch chances are Creel limits may not even be met.... Personally I take so much more satisfaction in catching wild trout. It. takes a whole lot more to kill it than one you know was put in the water knowing it probably wouldn't survive more than a season.....
