SAS,

i was just saying that many of these resturants, bars, and such heavily rely on these days. I had talked to a bar tender who had said with out those 4 days they wouldn't make it, is all.

I think the county by county thing is a decent idea. I support the PFBC if they would help out co-ops a bit more. But areas such as State College, or Westchester would be able to have more income than lets say wharton or coudersport, in Potter county.

All in all I think we do a pretty decent Job. Personally i would like to se the limit down to 2. I don't mind artificial lure areas as much as I used to and agree with the fact that a bait guy "if they want to fish that area" could put on a spinner. the techniques would be just that same as bait fishing, casting is no different, tackle is no different, and I am warming up to that.
