So where do people pick this stuff up? I'm not going to bother building them until I try one or two first!

There are a handful of online sources Blue Sky being one of the more recognized names. The thing is, you are going to pay about $13 for something that has 10 cents worth of material and maybe 5 min of work in it.

Tell you what. If 10 people ask me for a leader I'll haul out my jig and make up a bunch and send them out to anyone who wants to give them a try.

PM me your name and address and the first 10 people get a leader.
