

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Will glow in the dark flies actually work?

Re: Will glow in the dark flies actually work?

Author: : icyguides

Date: : 2013/4/4 15:21:31

URL:

Good point sandfly. As a kid, fishing for sunnies in farm ponds, i'd grab crickets, hoppers, ants, or any bug i could catch and throw it on the hook. I caught hundreds of sunnies doing that.

When it would start getting dark lightning bugs would come out and i would inevitably grab them and throw them on the hook. I never caught a single sunnie on a lightning bug. It wasn't until i was adult that i found out the reason why- lightning bugs are poisonous.