
Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : wissahickon.

Re: wissahickon.

Author: : pratt

Date: : 2013/4/4 19:03:13

URL:

Quote:

wildtrout2 wrote:

Don't forget your lounge chair. lol

so true, LOL!

I played hookey this afternoon for a couple of hours and hit the wissahickon - first time out this year. I parked at Rex Ave. and hiked up to the covered bridge hoping that it would be empty. No such luck - there were 3 dudes in lounge chairs chucking corn right below the covered bridge. I started fishing below them in the riffles and they started packing up shortly after that...so I started walking up to under the bridge. had a short conversation with them - they had no luck all afternoon - said that they threw everything that they had at 'em - "even Powerbait"!

I rigged up a size 14 beadhead prince...and with them standing there watching me - hooked up on my 3rd cast. they couldn't believe it. I just shrugged my shoulders....

Ended up with one more in the short hour that I fished today...