You asked how others approach things when there's a fish there that just won't take .....

I rest the fish and continue to pound away. Call me thick headed but I know I wasted the majority of the day on a fish when I should have simply moved on. There's only 2 endings..... you win and hook him or he wins and runs off.

san juan in casual dress? is that wearing a t-shirt and jeans?

I'd try a fly that acutally represents something living in the stream that the fish might feed on.
