

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Giant tiger trout in PA? Who'd a thunk it?

Re: Giant tiger trout in PA? Who'd a thunk it?

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2013/4/5 15:42:55

URL:

I dunno if they're wild or not. But in general, tigers have "hybrid vigor", meaning they grow faster than non-hybrid fish. It's common in hybrids.

It looks like big water, and the reference to walley fishermen. That works two ways. First, it makes it somewhat less likely that they are wild. But by the same token, makes it more likely that they coulda taken advantage of their growth advantages.