I believe the fish were taken over the past three years. none of them were caught by a mountain lion. I can't find a picture for the one that was caught last year but I did see a photo of it and it has to be a tiger closing in on the 10 pound mark. at any rate those are some pretty sweet route for a Bass . all were taken in the month of May for the month of October I just want to know where they go during the summer
