Post the URL? So you're saying I'm full of sh@t? You are a smart guy...figure it ou on your own. I will not spot burn my new potential honey hole. I called Shane and he guessed the general area correctly. They can exist just about anywhere. A few years back, a walleye angler caught a 27" Brown in the Susky near Marysville. Not a trout stream anywhere near there on the west side of the river. I guess they live in places where we'd never expect them.
