

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : seine-ing 101 ?

Re: seine-ing 101 ?

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/4/5 22:27:25

URL:

I seine a lot but rather with a kick seine to see what sorts of nymphs populate a stream or parts of a stream.

If I see fish sipping mystery stuff, I'll usually just watch a section of water surface very carefully and usually you will see the insect (or the shucked cases) that are being fed upon. Nevertheless, a seine is better and will get emergers under the film that you might miss with the naked eye.