I have a Trout Unlimited model. I think it was about $150 with fins from Gander Mountain. It has served me well, although I am thinking about upgrading my fins. The ones that came with it are ok, but as Machocheese said if you plan on covering some water they can really wear you out. Once you have your first day of panfish crushing every topwater you throw out or have a smallmouth spin you in circles as you try to get him in, you will be hooked forever. And it is really nice on those hot summer days when you don't need waders. Although you may have some bold bluegills nipping at your legs.
