Okay then we should stop stocking trout and stock panfish in ponds for the future anglers ?

As I said earlier in this thread, I don't favor ending stocking trout. I favor ending stocking over wild trout.

Regarding stocking panfish in ponds. Most ponds and lakes have had panfish introduced soon after the pond was built, and they have continued to reproduce and maintain their populations. There is no need for further stocking once they are established.

The PFBC and DCNR and county parks people etc. should make an effort to maintain and improve panfish opportunities throughout the state. That's great recreation for both young people and adults. And good panfishing opportunities will get more kids started in fishing than any other type of fishing.
