I was there and really enjoyed seeing some of the history. One of the guys had an older picture of a brown trout that was all but 50 inches easily. I Cant remember his name either charlie meck or charlie fox. could be way off there but that was the biggest fish i have ever seen.

The photo you saw is the famous pic of Joe Humphrys with his 32" state record brown trout from the 1970s. This is the pic on the back cover of his book. The fish looks much larger than life because it's being held forward to the cameraman.

However, I think most of us had the same reaction as you did when we first saw that picture (at least I did). 😊
