I agree with getting a better vice. it makes life a lot easier. I went from tying on a kit vice which sucked to upgrading to a 75 dollar vice and my last vice was a regal. the this is great. I can tie down to a 26 all the way to a 2/0 hook.

starting out tying is going to cost a lot of money. to tie one pattern it might cost 8 to 12 bucks depending on the material needed. its awesome to catch fish on something that you made. don't be discouraged and everyone sucks their first few flies. I still tie some ugly flies but I catch fish on them.
