

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Finding small streams

Re: Finding small streams

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2013/4/7 11:09:19

URL:

Use available on line maps. Drive to "likely access areas" (bridges, long stretches with no house/structures) and see if the land looks inviting with a lack of signs or otherwise.

Or, after say 10:00 AM, knock on the door of the nearest occupied structure and ask if the owner minds an angler on the land to access the stream-- suggest you will stay near the stream, not disturb crops or whatever, and that you release trout unless the landowner wants a few for dinner, in which case you can offer to give him your creel.