

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Float Tubes ?

Re: Float Tubes ?

Author: : tomgamber

Date: : 2013/4/7 17:39:34

URL:

With the caddis fins you just kind of backpedal. You don;t really kick unless you are really trying to cover ground or there is a strong wind at our back. Diving fins are made to produce force on the up and down stroke. Caddis tube fins will produce much more force on the upswing and very little when going down or backward. As Tim said. They work much better than diving fins.