

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : wading boots

Re: wading boots

Author: : copterdoc9

Date: : 2013/4/8 10:28:12

URL:

I started using a pair of cabelas felt soled boots. I went into a fly shop looking for a new pair of boots after mine had taken a beating, the shop owner set me up with a pair of Simms rubber soled/studded boots and I love them. I rarely slip on Moss and rock the studs grip the rocks and don't let go. The top of the line boot right now is the Patagonia boot with the aluminum bars on the bottom, just like the Korkers pictured. That Aluminum sticks to everthing in the water. I hope my rambling has been helpful.