Geebee, as you get further into fly fishing you will get further into entymology. You don't need to learn Latin to see what's in the water and under the rocks. Just for fun seine in a riffle by first scraping the rocks to dislodge the tiny invertebrates and then pick some rocks up and dislodge some more gravel. Let me know what you find. Jack, I can't believe that it's illegal to flip rocks on any Pa. inland waters, if it is I'm a happy serial law breaker , any seining laws refer to commercial fishing regs.
