

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Delaware river shore access in Lower Bucks?

Re: Delaware river shore access in Lower Bucks?

Author: : fishngun

Date: : 2013/4/9 13:08:07

URL:

You're not going to find a ton of action until the water warms a bit. Your walleye have spawned and either are on or will be eating again soon but they can be a crapshoot to find sometimes. Your smallies are getting ready to start staging for spawn. On warm days you will find them more active and they will eat if you get the fly to them right. Stripers are there but not real active yet. Shad have entered the river and are being caught.

Wait a few more weeks and the lower river will start turning on better.