How much time will you spend there each year? 60 days? You can rent o motel room for about $50/night, costing you $3,000 for the year. Add another grand for food, or cook out with a portable grill and camping equipment and save a few bucks. Never wash the sheets. Then again, there is the convenience of not lugging equipment around and the ability to have guests.

I would say it all depends upon what you are after.

However, if you are going to make it to camp less the 10 weekends a year, you are probably better off not buying something permanent, or at least going in with a couple others and time-sharing it.
