Would never sell my cabin, which is located on top of a mountain about 1 mile from Kettle Creek. DON'T buy one with other members, unless you want to clean up after your nephew, etc. Loved my brother dearly, but after he passed away a few years ago I have a lot of crap to deal with, like doing all the work while it's treated like a frat house.

Another down side: your paradise may be lost down the road. The stream may degrade and/or the fishing pressure may increase. Both of these things happened in the Kettle Creek basin. The plus side is it acts as a home base for a lot of NC streams.

All that being said, I still love cabin life, a lot more to it than just the fishing. Campfires, hiking, weeks away from phones and traffic; bears, ravens, turkeys, barred owls, etc.
