
Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Whiting Platinum Cape

Whiting Platinum Cape

Author: : Ebrant10

Date: : 2013/4/10 6:15:57

URL:

Ever since ive started tying in the early 2000s as a young kid, ive been in love with hackle. And in over 10 years time ive amassed a pretty good sized collection from various breeders and even started breeding my own line of genetic birds i was able to luck into last May.

Ive been after one of these capes for over two years now and finally stumbled accross the right one at the right price. I am honestly amazed at the quality and amount of hackle on this cape. The feathers are so long, the size 20s are about 6 inches long, 18s and 16s are 8-10 inches long 14s are about 8 inches long.

I just thought i would share it.

Attach file:

 2013-04-08_15-22-42_picsay.jpg (388.43 KB)

