Yup I have that rod! You'll get used to it for sub surface stuff if you fish it enough. Its definitely a shift from graphite, but its one that I'm very happy I made. I think you'll enjoy it particularly for the wet flies. I watched Wetfly01 at the QG Summit last year fish his wets w/ a cane rod. Down and across, and constantly mending his line to slow the flies down, I can see how glass or cane would work very well for something like that.
