I really want to get out after work tomorrow. I hope I dont get rained out. We need some pictures on this thread.

As for the skunk...tough question to answer. Odd that you didnt get anything. The yearlings typically arent too difficult to catch. I remember this time--even earlier than this time-- last year I was consistently catching them on top with gurglers in the evenings. Were you fishing a solid spot? If I get out tomorrow, I am heading straight for the honey holes.
