I may have the model before yours. I think they were L2 Gore-Tex. They are closing in on 10 years old. They are my back ups or warm weather waders. They are lighter than the G3's and have about 2 tubes of aquaseal on them. LOL. I got those on end of year clearance way back and they were $150 shipped to the door. They have been used and abused but just won't die. Cricket is right....all will leak at some point. A $50 pair of waders will probably leak faster or not last as long when compared to a $300 pair. Pick a price point, see which fit you best and look for sales.
