Love it and Hate it. It is having another house with all the bs. But when the family is all there and we have fire at night and playing cards it worth it. The stream is about 100 yards from the cabin and loaded with natives. It is about a 1hr and half from from so not a bad ride. My buddy and I have a cabin in potter I have not been there in 2 yrs. With the kids sports..

Wife and I just bought property in montana that should be interesting to see what we build there. My wife watches way to much hgtv.

Get one. You will complain but sitting back drinkng a beer and relaxing. Thats what it is all about.
