

---

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Opening Day Flies for Oil Creek

Re: Opening Day Flies for Oil Creek

Author: : Sylvaneous

Date: : 2013/4/10 20:36:31

URL:

Small (sz. 16) sucker spawn in pink and pale yellow. Dose with Power Bait Trout Scent. White marabou streamer in a smaller size, maybe 6 or 8. A sz. 16 or 14 sparsely dressed black wetfly to mimic a black stone. Sz. 16 and sz 14 black stone dries, but don't bet the house that you'll have success. Maybe and maybe not. No way to predict that. This rain may have the creek way high on Saturday. You may want to wait till Sunday. The soonest you should see any grannoms would be the following week, but I doubt you will then. While an unusually cold March doesn't make the water as cold as it makes the air, it prevents the water from warming very much, so the development of the grannoms was probably retarded some. It was historically cold this march. I judge grannoms to start the weekend after the trout opener or later. 21st sticks in my head. So maybe 23rd or 24th.