I was hoping to attend the Italian bamboo rodmakers meeting in Sansepolcro this year and was looking forward to fishing the Tevere for these fish. Couldn't make the schedule work this year, but will try again next. here is a nice video showing some underwater footage of the Puccini trout: <http://youtu.be/Qf-MBPQVILg>

It is amazing just how much variety there is in the trout world. Just within the US there are so many rare and unique strains that I doubt most trout anglers have been able to catch them all.
