It has been some time since I posted and wanted to inform those who are awaiting the update to the GPS Fishing Guide for Android. On April 1, Google introduced new Android mapping software which is delaying the Android update.

Their latest software version seems to have some issues with how they support custom maps which are the cornerstone of my app. We are working through the issues but it is significantly delaying our efforts.

Please accept my apologies and be assured that the update will come. I just don't want to introduce an inferior product by rushing into this update.
