Sorry, about all the questions I have really gotten into fly fishing over the last year and really would like to get decent at tying.

My question is, what type of hackle do you use for wooly bugger on a size 6 or 8 hook? I have strung hackle and well it doesn't quite get the job done. It isn't long enough and some of it is pretty crappy. So is there a certain type you use, or am I just doing it wrong?
