I've looked at the photo's on flicker in their original size and I still don't believe they're enhanced. It's all about the lighting. Here's a pic of a wild brown from PA that has not been edited in any way, taken with a run of the mill point and shoot camera. Note the red spots where the shadow is created by my arm, they almost glow. If you had more and larger red spots on this fish it would look exactly the same as those in the original post. The lighting makes all of the difference in the world.

Shun the nonbelievers! 😊
